I am a full stack developer with over 6 months of project leadership experience and specialization in JavaScript and React. My skill set includes JavaScript, TypeScript, React, Next.js, React Native, Expo, Redux Toolkit, Node.js, Express.js, PostgreSQL, and Sequelize. I have been involved in all phases of project development, from designing databases to building both the backend and frontend. My experience has allowed me to develop key skills such as self-discipline, project management, and self-directed learning. My English proficiency level is B1.
